CITY WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION by LIBBY REID

YET ANOTHER DILEMMA FROM THE LOVE WARS

THE DINNER CHECK

If I don't pay, he'll think I'm a Lightweight-Bimbo-Moocher...
If I insist, he'll think I'm a Bossy Castrating Meany...
If he doesn't pay, I'll know he's not really sexually interested in me....
If he doesn't pay, I'll know he's too cheap to be really sexually interesting
...why did he have to pick a restaurant I can't afford?
My Treat!
Even the staunchest Feminist can get "old fashioned" when the check arrives
....If I insist, she'll either love it or think I'm an Insecure-Controlling-Sexist....
If I don't insist, I won't get lucky for sure...
Why did she have to pick a restaurant I can't afford?

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS
CHECK ONE

- ☐ Dutch Treat
- ☐ Guy pays check, Gal pays tip
- ☐ Someone hides in the bathroom until it's all over.

CITY WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION
by LIBBY REID

THE HISTORY of WILD WOMEN

WILD WOMAN: '30s STYLE
Sure, I smoke in public and wear lipstick and kiss boys. I'm not engaged to!
WILD WOMAN: '50s STYLE
Sure, I neck 'n' pet, wear Big Hair and draw on my own eyebrows.
WILD WOMAN: '70s STYLE
Sure, I believe in stupid sex with just about anyone!
WILD WOMAN: '90s STYLE
Sure, I didn't go to the gym this morning and I ate an egg with - get this - buttered white toast!!!

Libby Reid's "You Don't Have to Pet to Be Popular" (Penguin Books, $6.95), including material previously published as City Woman's Home Companion and other cartoons, is now available from your bookseller.